

NEW LABS STARTING IN MARCH

Spring 2015

English 1100 Students

New

Are you an ENGL 1100 student who would benefit from additional instruction in essay writing essentials?

The English Department's Writing Labs are your best opportunity to complement what you are learning in ENGL 1100 and to keep you on track. Designed and taught by English faculty members, the labs focus on reviewing essay-writing skills in a series of modules. The labs offer plenty of hands-on practice in a supportive environment.

The lab instructors—experienced in teaching ENGL 1100—are here to guide you through the essay writing process while showing you how to apply each module's lesson to your academic writing. You should attend if your ENGL 1100 instructor has recommended it or if you know that you need extra help with your writing.
