

CANADIAN CULINARY IMAGINATIONS

A Symposium of Literary and Visual Fare

Feb 19–20, 2016

KPU Richmond

LIMITED TICKETS: $40 ticket includes registration, catered lunches, and coffee breaks/snacks on both days of the symposium.

To purchase tickets, please contact

Shelley Boyd (English)
shelley.boyd@kpu.ca or

Dorothy Barenscott (Fine Arts)
dorothy.barenscott@kpu.ca

KPU students may attend any or all panels and creative keynote events for FREE (meals excluded).

The Canadian Culinary Imaginations Symposium is a two-day interdisciplinary event with over 25 invited speakers, ranging from local and international academics, to artists, curators, and writers, who will explore how Canadian writers and/or visual artists use food to articulate larger historical and cultural contexts. The symposium will coincide with the launch of the public art exhibition Artful Fare: Conversations About Food, featuring the collaborative art projects of KPU Fine Arts and English students as they engage in creative-critical dialogues about Canadian poetry. Vancouver Poet Laureate Rachel Rose will present a Creative-Keynote on the topic of poems inspired by food.

For more information about the event, please visit:

dorothybarenscott.com/artful-fare

